

Dr. Angela Penny

Dr Angela Penny is the Director of Boards of Studies at the University Council of Jamaica (UCJ) and has overall responsibility for the development of standards for academic programmes in tertiary institutions. Additionally, she serves as the lead credential assessor at the UCJ. She is also actively involved in the research activities of the Council and is particularly interested in research relating to quality assurance in tertiary education; teaching effectiveness and improvement; and educational administration.

Dr Penny has over 25 years field experience in education, which involves teaching at both the secondary and tertiary levels. She received her training from the University of West Indies, Mona Campus; University of Durham; University of Illinois, Carbondale; and the University of Technology, Jamaica.