Lyndon Richard Abdool is currently the Manager, Quality Assurance, Research and Effectiveness for the Council of Legal Education, Hugh Wooding Law School. He has general responsibilities for quality assurance, institutional research, measuring institutional effectiveness and quality audits at the Law School.

Mr. Abdool has over nine years experience in the area of Quality Assurance (QA) in Higher Education. His experience spans both with the regulatory bodies and two higher education institutions. With regards to the former, Mr. Abdool worked with the National Training Agency and the Accreditation Council of Trinidad and Tobago (ACTT) in the position of Quality Assurance Officer. In both instances, he was generally responsible for reviewing the QA systems of institutions.

Mr. Abdool subsequently went on to become the Quality Assurance Manager for the Cipriani College of Labour and Co-operative Studies. He had the general responsibility for providing overall strategic leadership in Quality Assurance. He was also the Self Study Co-ordinator when the College initially gained Institutional Accreditation status with ACTT.

Mr. Abdool is the holder of a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration. He also holds an International Master's Degree in Business Administration (Distinction) from the University of the West Indies. He has attended numerous professional development courses and conferences in quality assurance in higher education.

Mr. Abdool's main intention is to assist CANQATE in realising its mission of "enhancing the quality of tertiary education in the Caribbean through research, capacity building, advocacy and enabling members to share information and good practices".
